

Library2Go

Library2Go provides downloadable audiobooks for library patrons' personal computers and MP3 players. Library2Go is a new service provided by Lake Oswego Public Library, a member of the Oregon Digital Library Consortium.

Eight public library systems cooperated to create the Oregon Digital Library Consortium, sharing costs and pooling resources in order to better serve their patrons. Those libraries are: Corvallis-Benton County Public Library, Deschutes Public Library, Eugene Public Library, Jackson County Library Services, Library Information Network of Clackamas County, Multnomah County Library, Salem Public Library, and Washington County Cooperative Library Services.

Best-selling titles are available 24/7 from our website, and are playable on your PC or MP3 player at home, in the office, or from anywhere in the world. These computer files will expire after 2 weeks, so there is no need to return items and no late fees. Library2Go is free for all cardholders in the Clackamas County library system.

To use these audiobooks you will need a valid library card, access to the Internet, and free digital book software (available on the Library2Go website). Library2Go audiobooks are playable on any device with Windows Media Player software.
