

Hello L.O.

THE OFFICIAL NEWSLETTER OF THE CITY OF LAKE OSWEGO

Trio Elected to City Council

Roger Hennagin

The November 7 General Election determined that Roger Hennagin, Kristin Johnson, and Donna Jordan will take the place of outgoing Councilors Gay Graham, Jack Hoffman, and Lynn Peterson.

Councilors Graham and Hoffman were term limited and Councilor Peterson was elected to the Clackamas County Board of Commissioners.

Kristin Johnson

The City Council has seven members, including the Mayor. Councilors are elected citywide, on a nonpartisan ballot, for four-year terms. The positions do not pay a salary.

Councilors set City goals, enact legislation, adopt policies and plans, and determine services to provide. The Council also adopts the City budget and appoints citizens to City boards and commissions.

Donna Jordan

Council meetings take place at 6 p.m. on the first and third Tuesday of each month. Hennagin, Johnson, and Jordan will be sworn into office on January 2, at the first meeting of 2007.

Charitable Community Causes

Help make the season a little brighter for those in need this year by giving to these local causes.

The City partners with Oregon Food Bank each year to collect food for those in need. Watch for collection bins at the front and back of City Hall and at local events. Nutritious, nonperishable foods are needed, including: canned meats, peanut butter, canned beans and peas, pasta, rice, cereal, canned fruits, and 100 percent fruit juice. Donations are needed by December 20.

The Lake Oswego Fire Department and Lake Oswego Library will be accepting new, unwrapped toys for the annual Toy Drive until December 15. Toys can be delivered to the Lake Oswego Fire Department Main Station at 300 B Avenue, or the Library at 706 Fourth Street.

Another returning local program involves the "Giving Trees," benefitting the Clackamas County Women's Shelter. Basic household items are requested, and trees are displayed at Albertsons on State Street, Wizer's downtown, Lamb's Palisades Market, Rite Aid on B Avenue, and New Seasons Market on Boones Ferry Road.

Call the Citizen Information Center at 503-635-0257 for more information.

Experience the Lake Oswego Holiday Market

December 2 and 3, 10 a.m. to 5 p.m., Millennium Plaza Park

A traditional European holiday market awaits you at Millennium Plaza Park. Rain or shine, the plaza will be bustling with activity and open for business. Even bigger and better than last year, this event plays host to holiday treats and sweets, crafts, entertainment, gifts and decor for all to enjoy. Browse under our heated canopy, warm your hands by the fire, and enjoy a ride in a horse drawn carriage.

NEWS YOU CAN USE

City Hall Access

City Hall is not currently accessible to vehicle traffic coming from A Avenue via Fourth Street. Construction on the Pollock Commercial Building (formerly Marsee Bakery) requires the use of one lane of traffic on Fourth Street, which will remain closed for the duration of the project (12-18 months). The lane is closed between A Avenue and the turnaround at the upper parking lot behind City Hall. Access will be maintained in the northbound lane, leaving City Hall.

Parking lots can be accessed using Third Street, Fifth Street, or the alleyway on the east side of City Hall off of A Avenue. Entrances to the lots and the City Hall book drop will not be affected.

Special Trolley Excursions

The Willamette Shore Trolley has a limited number of spaces available this holiday season for its popular evening excursions to watch the Lighted Boat Parades on the Willamette River. Enjoy cocoa, cider, and cookies before the ride.

Rates vary between $20 and $35 based on the date of the excursion. Special excursions begin on December 8 and end on December 20. Some will sell out and the trolley does not run every day. Call 503-697-7436 for reservations, or visit the trolley station at 311 N. State Street.

Boards and Commissions

Make a New Year's resolution to serve your community. There are currently open recruitments to fill volunteer positions on a number of City boards and commissions. If you'd like to get involved, there's likely a good match for you.

Some positions require specific qualifications; others are open to anyone residing within the City's Urban Services Boundary. Additional information is available in the Mayor's Office in City Hall, 380 A Avenue. You can also learn more at www.ci.oswego.or.us/boards/Vacancies/currentvacancies.htm, or call 503-635-0236.

Lake Oswego Relay for Life

In its first year in Lake Oswego, the 2006 Relay for Life had 10 teams, including 20 cancer survivors. It is an overnight event that celebrates cancer survivors and raises money for the research and programs of the American Cancer Society. Last year's event raised $30,000.

The 2007 Relay for Life of Lake Oswego will take place on July 14 and 15, in the District Stadium at Lake Oswego High School. Teams of 8-15 people are welcomed (from schools, work, religious groups, neighbors, families, friends, etc.).

Assistance is also needed finding committee members, donations for the Relay auction, corporate sponsors, and local cancer survivors interested in participating. To help, contact Rhonda Cohen at lorelayforlife@aol.com or 503-639-7633.

City Hall Blood Drive

You can help save lives by giving blood on January 5, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. in Council Chambers at Lake Oswego City Hall (380 A Avenue). Walk-ins are welcome, but scheduling a time helps avoid long waits. Schedule a time at www.givelife.org by using the code "LOCityHall" or call Berta Derman at 503-635-3758.

Playwriting Competition Reminder

If you are presenting a script for the 2007 Playwriting Competition, the deadline for submission is Friday, January 19, 2007, at 4 p.m. Additional information, including submittal guidelines, is available at www.lofa.org.

Lake Interceptor Information and Updates

Information is forthcoming regarding progress on the development of in-lake and out-of-lake options for solving interceptor capacity and seismic vulnerability issues.

Phase 1 of the study found that in-lake replacement of the 45 year-old interceptor gravity pipeline was more expensive and complex than originally thought. Since then, a Phase 2 study is examining pumping alternatives that could address both short-term (capacity relief) and long-term (structural integrity) needs. The preliminary findings will allow the Council to give the project team guidance on how to proceed.

A draft report will be presented to the Council in the coming year, with an opportunity for public input following. The report and resultant feedback will help guide decisions for a long-term solution.

Short-term efforts include the recent debris removal prior to the lake drawdown. Inside several in-water portions of the pipeline, obstructions and material had accumulated over the years and contributed to capacity limitations during severe storms. Over 50 cubic yards (5 dump truck loads) of sand, grit and gravel were removed.

For more information, visit the project website at www.ci.oswego.or.us/engineer/OLIS or call the Lake Interceptor Hotline at 503-699-7466.

New Youth Councilors Learning the Ropes

After a long day of school, it isn't always easy to make it to City Hall for an evening City Council meeting, but that's what six students from Lakeridge and LOHS will do this year as Youth Councilors.

Hannah Troisi, Katie Hamacheck, Jordan Schrader, Ben Saulson, Rachel Richardson, and Ashna Reddy were selected to serve alongside the Lake Oswego City Council, attending meetings, weighing in on issues before the body, and learning firsthand about local government.

City Recorder Robyn Christie administers the oath of office to the six new Youth Councilors.

The Youth Council began in 1999 as a way of involving and educating students from area high schools about issues that affect the City. The selection process is competitive and open to residents who are juniors and seniors in public or private high schools.

Watch the Youth Council in action during City Council meetings on the first and third Tuesdays of the month at City Hall or live on Tualatin Valley Community Television.

Welcome New AmeriCorp Staff

The City welcomes two new members of our staff, on placements from AmeriCorp:

Deb Wechselblatt, Forestry Coordinator, will be working on urban forestry issues in Lake Oswego. She is the first person to hold this position, and she has three primary objectives: conduct a tree inventory, develop a community forestry concept plan, and engage and educate the public. Deb can be reached at 503-675-2543 or dwechselblatt@ci.oswego.or.us.

Deb Wechselblatt

Greg Creager, Natural Area Volunteer Coordinator, will be working on monitoring invasive plants and organizing volunteers interested in restoration projects, including ivy removal, native plantings, stewardship groups, education and outreach. Greg takes the place of Annie Bergelin, who ends a successful term of service with the City on December 15. If you have questions or project ideas, Greg can be reached at 503-675-3736 or gcreager@ci.oswego.or.us.

Sustainability Corner: Bright Ideas and Notable Numbers

The City recognizes that local government plays a vital role in fostering sustainability and is committed to adopting, implementing, and maintaining sustainable practices. Here are a few ways that the City and its partners are making a difference:

SEEING THE LIGHT

The City became involved with the Energy Star "Change a Light, Change the World" Campaign this year to help prevent green house gas emissions. You can do your part by simply using light bulbs that have earned the Energy Star certification. If every person in Lake Oswego changed one light bulb, we'd save 9,948,396 kWh of energy, and 15,718,466 pounds of greenhouse gas emissions. That's the environmental equivalent of removing 250 cars from the road and enough energy to light 4,737 homes for a year.

HYBRID FLEET PAYS OFF

The City's fleet of hybrids, including five Toyota Prius and 2 Honda Civics, is proving to be a smart move. Mileage reports show that the cars are saving fuel and money while doing the same job as the gas guzzlers they replaced. The Toyotas are averaging 33.5 MPG and the Hondas are averaging 43.2 MPG. Compare these numbers to the 13.5 MPG of the Ford Ranger pickups that the hybrids replaced. At about 30,000 miles per year, this kind of efficiency adds up.

VEGETABLE OIL AND BIODIESEL AT WORK

Allied Waste of Lake Oswego, the garbage and recycling hauler for the community, is also working toward a more sustainable community. One way Allied is making a difference is by introducing environmentally friendly hydraulic oils and B20 (20%) biodiesel into its fleet.

The new "clarity" hydraulic oils are biodegradable and minimize long-term environmental concerns that may occur due to leakage. B20 biodiesel is a cleaner-burning vegetable oil-based fuel blended with petroleum diesel that reduces carbon dioxide exhaust emissions by 12%, unburned hydrocarbons by 20%, and particulate matter by 12%.

City Leaf Collection Efforts

If you have trees in or near your yard, you know what an ongoing battle it can be to keep up with the falling leaves. Here's what it takes the City's Maintenance Services Department to keep the community's streets clean.

Three street sweepers have been running full time, citywide to pick up leaves and debris. Special attention is given to streets with curbs and gutters to make sure storm drains stay clear. The sweeper trucks can clean approximately 20 miles per day, per truck. Two full-time employees and one part-time employee are assigned to this duty.

Leaves are removed from pathways but not from sidewalks except in the downtown area. Downtown sidewalks are cleared on Thursday evenings and swept on Fridays year-round.

The City's leaves are taken to a private mulching facility. The cost is $50 per load (5 yards) and there are approximately 12 loads per day. The cost of this collection effort is approximately $2448 per day, which includes the trucks, labor, and disposal costs. Once the trees are bare, only one sweeper is kept in service for year-round use.

Local Holiday Gift Ideas

Limited edition ornaments, throw blankets, and many other gifts with local flair are available through the online City Store. Most items are available for purchase at City Hall, 380 A Avenue.

Stop by the display case at City Hall or visit us at www.ci.oswego.or.us/CITYSTORE to take a look at some of the items we offer. With items ranging from coffee mugs to manhole covers, you'll find a unique selection.

"Lake Oswego Reads" Kickoff January 9, 6:30 to 9 p.m. at the Library

Celebrate the kickoff of the Lake Oswego Reads community reading event and pick up your complimentary copy of The Shadow of the Wind. Enjoy Spanish music by Mariano Deorbegoso and son and taste food from Spain.

Just show your Library card to get your free book, compliments of the Friends of the Lake Oswego Library. Learn more about Lake Oswego Reads online at www.ci.oswego.or.us/library.

Lake Oswego Reads is presented by the Lake Oswego Public Library and sponsored by West Coast Bank.

Palisades Neighborhood Planning Continues

Palisades Neighborhood Association began its neighborhood planning process in March 2006. Monthly meetings have been held to discuss subject areas such as transportation, residential land use, parks and recreation, natural resources, and trees.

Next in the series of meetings is an issue discussion on land use and housing on December 12, at 7 p.m., at Palisades Elementary School. Every neighbor in Palisades from all 1,540 Lake Oswego households is invited to participate in the making of this plan, and all viewpoints are welcome.

Palisades Neighborhood Association first applied for a neighborhood plan in August 2004. This year, it was selected as the next neighborhood to work with City staff on its plan. The plan is an opportunity to articulate a vision for the future and develop goals and action items for reaching that vision. It will address transportation, safety, land use, trees, natural resources, parks, schools, and other public amenities.

Go to www.ci.oswego.or.us/plan/Palisades.htm for more information or contact Eryn Kehe, Neighborhood Planner, at 503-675-3730 or ekehe@ci.oswego.or.us.

What People Are Saying About Clean Streams ...

The rainy season is upon us and we are reminded daily about stormwater runoff. What happens after it flows into a street drain? How do we keep soil, leaves, vehicle oil and other pollutants from washing off into our lakes and streams? Capturing and transporting stormwater while protecting its quality can be a challenge. The Clean Streams Plan is looking at ways to continue to improve our surface water management system.

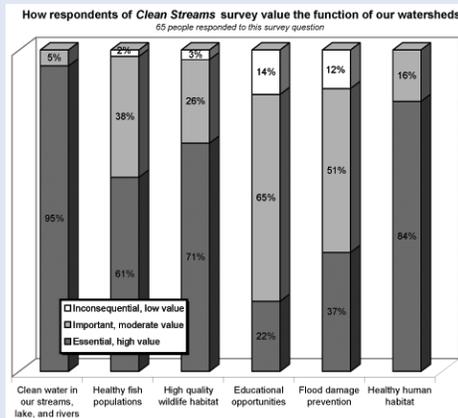

Since July, over 100 people have shared ideas and concerns about surface water through a citizen sounding board meeting, survey, and Community Forum. Participants have identified problem sites with issues such as stream bank erosion, overflowing stormwater pipes and catch basins, flooding, and stream water quality concerns. While the Clean Streams Plan may not be able to solve every problem, it can provide the framework on how to best address our stormwater concerns.

This summer, respondents to the Clean Streams survey expressed strong values relating to protecting water quality. Results indicated that 77% of respondents believe pollution in creeks, lakes and rivers is the most serious problem related to urban watersheds, and 95% believe that clean water in our streams, lakes, and rivers is an important urban watershed function that contributes to our quality of life in Lake Oswego.

Residents have shared ideas about how the City and individuals can improve water quality and better manage runoff. Some suggestions include better monitoring of water quality, managing runoff at the property or block level, coordinating stream restoration efforts, installing permeable driveways and parking lots, adding more bioswales and absorption areas, and offering incentives to encourage good practices. These ideas will be examined as the Clean Streams Plan moves forward to completion in late 2007.

Library Ranks Number One ... Again!

For the fourth year in a row, the Lake Oswego Public Library earned the highest Hennen's American Public Library Ratings (HAPLR) score of all libraries in Oregon. The Library's winning score of 880 even topped last year's score.

HAPLR evaluates libraries utilizing several performance measures including: volumes per capita, visits per capita, circulation per capita, and cost per circulation. The index also compares libraries serving similar population sizes. Lake Oswego Public Library was rated eighth in the nation in the 25,000-49,999 population category.

"We are very pleased about our HAPLR ratings," says Library Director Jan Erickson. "We are also appreciative that our Library is such a valued resource in the community."

Statistics show that Lake Oswego is indeed a well read community. The national average for circulation per capita is 7.03, the state average is 14.8, but Lake Oswego Public Library's circulation per capita is an astounding 32.39. The national average for library visits per capita is 4.624, the state average is 6.2, and Lake Oswego Public Library's 2005-06 visits per capita is 8.46, almost double the national average.

DECEMBER PROGRAMS FOR ADULTS

Stolen Sweets Concert

Tuesday, December 5, 6:30 p.m.

The Stolen Sweets are sure to hold you spellbound with their refreshing and unique interpretations of vocal jazz tunes from the 1920s and 1930s.

The band's repertoire is inspired by the unconventional arrangements and virtuosic three-part harmonies of the Boswell Sisters (Martha, Connee and Vet), one of the most popular groups of that era.

Poinsettia Day

Tuesday, December 12, from noon to 4 p.m.

By an act of Congress, December 12 was set aside as National Poinsettia Day to honor Joel Poinsett, who introduced the native Mexican plant to the United States. Celebrate the beauty of the popular holiday plant with cookies, music and poinsettias.

There will be a presentation at 1 p.m. by Paul Fukasawa from Al's Garden Center sharing helpful hints on how to care for the plants so they last all season long.

DECEMBER PROGRAMS FOR CHILDREN

Children's Storytimes

Families are invited to attend storytimes, which are special reading adventures tailored for a range of ages. The storytime schedule is as follows:

Baby Storytime (birth through 18 months)

Tuesdays at 11:45 a.m.

Toddler Storytime (19 months to three years old)

Wednesdays at 11:45 a.m.

Preschool Storytime (three to five years old)

Tuesdays and Wednesdays at 10:30 a.m.

Storytime with Jackie (three to five years old)

Wednesday, December 6 at 10:30 a.m.

Featuring a holiday puppet show.

During the week of December 4, storytimes have holiday themes. There will be a storytime hiatus from December 8 through January 1. Regular storytimes resume on January 2, 2007.

Holiday Crafts for Children

The Library is offering several holiday craft experiences for children, no sign up required.

Create a Holiday Card (all ages)

Saturday, December 2, drop in any time between 11 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Design Festive Wrapping Paper (ages six and up)

Monday, December 4, at 4 to 5 p.m.

Make a Holiday Gift Bag (three to five year olds)

Tuesday, December 5, at 11 a.m. or Wednesday, December 6 at 11 a.m.

More information is available by phone at 503-697-6580 or online at www.lakeoswegolibrary.org/youth.

Holiday Manners Please!

Saturday, December 9, 11 a.m. to noon

Children ages 6 and up are invited to a session on manners for the holidays. Cassandra Givan, founder of Manners on the Go, is presenting a lively program that includes the etiquette of gift giving and manners at holiday parties. This program is free, but registration is required. Please call 503-697-6580 to sign up.

DECEMBER PROGRAMS FOR TEENS

Beaded Jewelry Workshop for Teens

Monday, December 18, from 2 to 3 p.m.

Students in grades 7-12 are invited to a beaded jewelry workshop. Participants can create a holiday gift or a one-of-a-kind piece of jewelry during the class. There will be an opportunity to create two pieces of jewelry, choosing from earrings, bracelets, and ankle bracelets. A wide variety of beads will be available.

Instructor Ruthann Carter demonstrates techniques and provides beaded jewelry samples. The program is made possible by the Friends of the Library. The program is free, but registration is required. Please call 503-697-6580 to sign up.

Teen Anime Night

Tuesday, December 19, from 6 to 8 p.m.

Anime fans in grades 7-12 are invited to watch Inu Yasha, The Movie 4: Fire on the Mystic Islands. In this anime film Inu Yasha is called upon to save a powerless group of children who are held captive. Refreshments will be served. There is no cost to attend and no sign up required.
