

What Services Do I Pay for and Get When Paying my Utility Bill?

Utility Bill payments pay for your consumption and use of the water system, sewer, stormwater (carrying water away from streets, parking lots and yards in way that does not pollute our water), and use of streets. The money collected is also used to pay for operations, maintenance and capital improvement costs for the City's utility systems.

Through the bills customers pay, the City is able to provide clean, safe drinking water, safe streets for travel, and remove used water (wastewater) from your home. In order to do this in a legally sound, cost effective and efficient way which practices good stewardship of our financial and natural resources and environment, the City engages in different engineering, public works, financial management, and education programs.

Thank you for being a member of the Lake Oswego community and a ratepayer as well as for your value in quality and efficient services. Below are the direct services that are provided through City Utilities, all of which are in and make up the Public Works Department. Administrative services, that serve both property tax and utility funded programs (such as Finance, Human Resources, Information Technology ... are not included in the links below).

Lake Oswego Tigard Water Partnership

In August 2008, the cities of Lake Oswego and Tigard formally endorsed a partnership agreement for sharing drinking water resources and costs. Lake Oswego's water supply facilities were undersized, aging and seismically weak. Tigard has long sought ownership in a secure, dependable water source and both cities wanted to keep water rates affordable for their residents.
