They Came for Freedom

by Jay Milbrandt

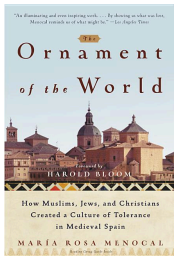

With the execution of two pastors deviating from the Church of England, the Pilgrims' journey began with a daring escape and courageous faith. Their story is one of religious persecution and a community that survived unbelievable odds.

The Crusades

by Thomas Asbridge

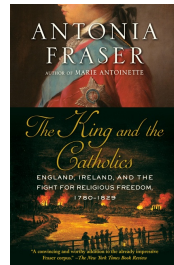

The Crusades is an authoritative, accessible single-volume history of the brutal struggle for the Holy Land in the Middle Ages. With years 1095 to 1291 covered in this comprehensive account of one of the most fascinating periods in history.

The Ornament of the World

by Maria Rosa Menocal

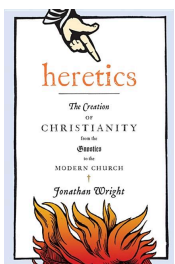

This classic bestseller is an illuminating and inspiring portrait of medieval Spain that explores the golden age when Muslims, Jews, and Christians lived together in an atmosphere of tolerance.

The King and the Catholics

by Antonia Fraser

Gripping, spirited, and incisive, The King and the Catholics is character-driven narrative history at its best, reflecting the dire consequences of state-sanctioned oppression and showing how sustained political action can triumph over injustice.

Heretics

by Jonathan Wright

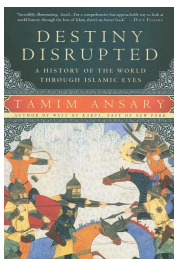

A lively new examination of Christian heresy, from a historian who argues that heretical dissent helped Christianity become the world's most powerful religion by forcing the Church to continually refine and impose its beliefs.

Europe Against the Jews,

by Götz Aly

Tracing the sequence of events that made persecution of Jewish people increasingly acceptable in the late 19th century, Aly documents the involvement of the different European countries that participated in antisemitism practices and tolerance leading up to the second World War.

Destiny Disrupted

by Tamim Ansary

In Destiny Disrupted, Ansary tells the rich story of world events including the key people, legends, ideas, religious disputes, and turning points that changed the world from the Muslim community perspective.
